

the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are illiterate has increased from 1.2 billion to 1.5 billion.

There are many reasons for this. One is that the population of the world is growing so fast that the number of people who are illiterate is increasing. Another reason is that the quality of education is so poor that many people who are literate are not able to read and write well enough to be able to do so in the workplace or in the community.

There are many ways to improve literacy. One way is to provide more people with access to education. Another way is to improve the quality of education so that more people are able to read and write well enough to be able to do so in the workplace or in the community.
